- You represent the family of Mike Roy. Mr. Roy was injured in an auto accident while driving home from work one evening in Austin, Texas. Mr. Roy suffered serious injuries during the accident, including brain injuries. He sued the driver of the other vehicle, alleging that the driver was negligent in driving through a red light. Mr. Roy recovered a fair judgment as a result of his personal injury accident. One year later, he died as a result of complications stemming from his brain injury. His family would like to pursue a wrongful death action against the driver of the car that caused Mr. Roy's injuries. What effect will Mr. Roy's previous lawsuit and judgment have on his family's possible wrongful death claim?
